

Quick Tip: How to Withdraw an Application

Overview

Withdrawing an application allows a researcher to remove the application from workflow, while keeping a record of that application in the Researcher Portal. Applications may only be withdrawn when they are under Applications: Drafts or Applications: Requiring Attention.

Once an application is under review (Department or Faculty Level or with RGCS, MI Finance and Contracts Office, HREA, ICEHR, Grenfell REB or Animal Care), it cannot be withdrawn using the steps below. In these cases, the researcher would need to contact the appropriate administrative office directly to withdraw the application:

For ethics applications:

- Health Research Ethics Authority (HREA) – 709-777-6974, info@hrea.ca
- Interdisciplinary Committee on Ethics in Human Research (ICEHR) – 709-864-2561, icehr@mun.ca
- Grenfell Campus Research Ethics Board (GCREB) – 709-639-7596, gcethics@grenfell.mun.ca
- The Institutional Animal Care Committee (IACC) – 709-777-6620, acs@mun.ca

For awards applications:

- RGCS: RGCS Workflow Coordinator, 709-864-3805, RGCSworkflow@mun.ca
- Marine Institute: Kelley Santos, 709-778-0636, Kelley.Santos@mi.mun.ca

Once an application is withdrawn using the steps below, that application will remain under Applications: Withdrawn in the Researcher Portal unless the application is deleted by the researcher.

In addition to being able to be viewed, withdrawn applications may be cloned by the researcher (if they wish to use the content as the basis for a new application), or they may be deleted by the researcher (if they no longer wish to have this file in the Researcher Portal—this is a permanent deletion of the file).
